ELECTRONIC CERTIFICATION OF PROBATE LETTERS AVAILABLE MAY 1

Effective Wednesday, May 1, individuals will have the ability to electronically certify Probate Letters issued for decedent, guardianship and conservatorship matters.

Court users seeking electronic certification of Probate Letters should electronically submit their letters through the electronic filing (efiling) system via an Electronic Filing Service Provider (EFSP), where the user can select the option for electronic certification and pay the associated $40 certification fee. Electronically certified letters will be emailed to the party upon issuance.

Those who do not opt to electronically certify Probate Letters, including self-represented parties, may continue to have letters certified in person at either of the following locations:

Probate Records Office – Stanley Mosk Courthouse

111 N. Hill St., Room 112

Los Angeles, CA 90012

- OR -

Probate Records Office – Michael D. Antonovich Antelope Valley Courthouse

42011 4th St. West, Room 1048

Lancaster, CA 95353

Certified copies of Probate Letters may be obtained only in person at the locations noted above.

For more information on efilings in the Probate Division or to select an efilings service provider, please visit the Court's Probate Efilings Information Page.
